joint distribution

The "co-distribution" of x and y.

conditional distribution

The probability distribution of x, given that we know the value of y.

mariginal distribution

The density of x- (or y-) values, without knowing the other's value.